CCBOE accepts resignation of New Brockton teacher during called meeting

The Coffee County Board of Education held a called meeting Thursday, April 27, at noon, and the only action taken by the board, other than voting to enter an executive session, was the acceptance of a resignation letter from a New Brockton School teacher.

After calling the meeting to order, the board members voted to enter an executive session for the purpose of discussing personnel issues. After they returned to open session, board members voted to approve the superintendent's recommendations for personnel matters.

The only matter listed on the Superintendent Kelly Cobbs list was to accept the resignation of HeartLee Sanders as a teacher at New Brockton High School, effective immediately.

LOOKING TO BRING A BLUEWAY TRAIL TO ELBA... This group of interested folks gathered recently at the Elba Public Library to discuss the possibility of bringing a Blueway Trail to Elba's Pea River and Whitewater Creek. This is a project of Restoration 154, according to Elba Mayor Tom Maddox, and that group is working with the National Park Service [NPS] as part of a grant award from NPS. A blueway water trail is a marked route navigable waterways such as rivers, lakes, canals, and coastlines for recreational use. Blueway trails allow access to waterways for watercraft — including non-motorized boats, inner tubes, etc. NPS is providing a service to Elba to help locate ways to take advantage of its natural resources, like the Pea River and Whitewater Creek. Meeting participants included (shown above in a round table discussion at the Elba Public Library): Mayor Maddox; Greg Hanchey, Elba Parks and Recreation; Sandy Williams, Elba Chamber of Commerce/Mainstreet and Tourism; Steve Northcutt, The Nature Conservancy; Ed Poolos, Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources; Rachel Armstrong, Southeast Alabama Regional Planning and Development Commission; Justin Maddox, Restoration 154; Laurie Chapman, Restoration 154; Bill Lane, National Parks Service; Jeff Powell, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service/Alabama Ecological Services Field Office; Evelyn Moreno, National Parks Service; Tony and Amanda Johnson, owners of Pea River Outdoors; Gappa Wise, Elba City Councilman; and Anna Mitchell, Auburn University Landscape Architecture.

During April 24th Coffee County Commission meeting

County engineer provides update on road resurfacing projects

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Coffee County engineer Marty Lentz provided an update on resurfacing projects during the Monday, April 24, county commission meeting held in New Brockton.

Lentz said the resurfacing portion of the projects for County Roads 266 and 157 were complete. He also noted that resurfacing on County Road 636 was scheduled to begin the second week in May, according to the contractor.

Regarding County Rd. 636, Lentz said just under 9 miles of roadway would be resurfaced, and the actual resurfacing portion should take approximately 2-3 weeks. After resurfacing work is finished, he said there would be some shoulder work for county employees to finish but not as much as required on County Rds. 266 and 157.

Environmental services coordinator Mike Thornton asked commissioners to approve a new annual bid contract for alternative daily cover at the landfill. He said LSC Environmental Products was the only company to bid for the product, and this is the company with the contract currently. "They've really become the only player in the field," Thornton said of LSC Environmental Products. The new bid price was $24.19 per bag for a full truckload of 880 bags. Thornton said this was about $2 more per bag from the previous year's bid, but that was still 'in line' with the inflation being seen for products.

Commissioners voted unanimously to approve the bid contract.

Also, Thornton noted that the county landfill would be open and operational on Memorial Day, which will be Monday, May 29, this year.

Upon recommendation of county administrator Rod Morgan, commissioners voted to enter a contract to allow the Sheriff's Office to work on transitioning from its web page to a phone-based app for pushing information out to county residents. He said this transition would take place in the near future.

Also, during the meeting, commissioners voted to appoint Morgan, assistant county engineer Michael Walters, and Commissioners Sonny Moore to serve on the Coffee County Solid Waste Disposal Authority board. Morgan had previously been serving and was reappointed.

Probate Judge Jodee Thompson was reappointed to continue serving on the South Central Alabama Mental Health Board. Morgan said Thompson had been an asset serving on that board for the county.

The next Coffee County Commission meeting will be Monday, May 8, at 9 a.m., in the community room of the commission building in New Brockton.

Elba City councilman addresses "clean up" needs around town

During the Elba City Council meeting held Monday evening, April 24, councilman Gappa Wise asked for the city crews to take a look at "sprucing up" some things around town before the Rockin' the River event set for Friday and Saturday, May 5 & 6, in Elba. Wise presented photos of the 'Welcome to Elba' signs along Hwy 189 and Hwy 87 coming into the city. He said both these signs need immediate attention due to overgrowth of weeds (the sign along Hwy 189 is pictured to the right — top photo is the one Wise presented at the council meeting and bottom photo shows the sign as of Tuesday, May 2nd). A check on the signs earlier this week showed the councilman's request had been met with the landscape looking much cleaner.

Also, Wise was concerned over the condition of the fountain located on the square in Elba. During the April 24th meeting, he said it again was looking rough with water overflowing and appearing dirty. Wise said there obviously is still something wrong with the operation of that fountain. He said it would be nice to have that cleaned up as well before the May 5th-6th event that will bring lots of people to the downtown square.

"Life is 10% what happens to you and 90% how you react to it." – Charles R. Swindoll

Last week the New York Times released the results of their food taster board on peanut butter. Being a lover of this product, we read with great anticipation the results. Well NEITHER of the two tied for first place were our favorite. One of the two was Skippy, which we have seen in the stores, however the other one was one of a dozen that were strangers to the shelves of our area stores. Coming in close behind was JIF which made our heart race, as that is our number ONE choice and a staple in our kitchen cabinet!

Elba is the place to be - come Saturday! There is a car show, kayak race, 5K river run, live music, art exhibit, Elba history museum (pop-up), silent auction, arts and crafts, a bunch of food vendors plus a lot of other things. All this at Tiger Town Park and 'on the square'! Of course we suspect the kayak race will be in the river :).

There have been more crazy shootings in the past week. One guy in Texas is accused of killing several neighbors who reportedly had asked him to move the shooting of his automatic rifle away from their house. We read where someone tried to excuse his actions by implying he was 'probably drunk'. That may be true, but he was sober enough to run after the killings (and still on the run Tuesday of this week). So, if we are on the trial jury don't try using that defense, as we think murder is murder.

Our weekly reports in the newspaper on the large number of local citizens being arrested on drug charges stirs a lot of talk among our readers. Our question every week is, 'when will we finally get them all arrested and off the streets of Coffee County?' Maybe it is a case of someone stepping up to fill a salesman's void when a half dozen citizens accused of selling drugs are suddenly off the streets and there is not a job opening!

The Elba Chamber's "Business of the Month" for May is Lawford's Hardware. This longtime, downtown square staple hardware store is owned and operated by Wayne and Betty Lawford (pictured above).

Cuzin Lou Lou is happy to report more "good" Lou 2 news this week!

Recently, she suggested to Papa that Lou 2 needed her own parking garage so that "Little Brother Renegade" could have a spot in the house garage. Little Brother is the everyday vehicle so Lou Lou needs it easily accessible, but Lou 2 requires shelter too.

Lou Lou even discussed with Papa her idea of where the new shelter for Lou 2 could be constructed...and he took the hint very well.

Last week, Papa began constructed a new garage building for Lou 2!

He got the framework completed during the week, which allowed Lou Lou and Papa to work together last weekend to get the new building roofed! Now, construction moves to installing siding.

It might not be a professionally constructed building, but it looks pretty darn good thus far in Lou Lou's opinion; however, as you might imagine, Sister had plenty to say about the work being done by Lou Lou and Papa. Sister pulled up a lounge chair and did her best at being a supervi-crawled right on up there and cooied in Sister's lap.

A time or two, the noise from the supervisor's chair got quiet, and Lou Lou looked to see what was wrong...well, apparently, supervising is a hard task so Sister and Bean had to go inside for a quick power nap! Don't tell her, but that is when the best work took place!!

Sister was actually in the middle of a nap when the final piece of roofing metal was attached so she missed the time of admiring the work shared between Papa and Lou Lou, but she managed to go inspect a short time later.

Her first criticism regarding the skylight installed as part of the roof.

"I don't really like that because you can see the wood of the frame through the clear sheet," Sister said. "It looks kind of tacky."

Lou Lou assured Sister that once the building was completed with siding, etc. that the little spot she was worrying over would not even be very noticeable. Sister reluctantly chose to believe Lou Lou. "I promise you...you will like it when it is all completed," Lou Lou insisted.

Sister's response was a "maybe." She doesn't like the disarray the construction process has created in the backyard for now, and she cannot see beyond that. Of course, the biggest problem is the building is being constructed for Lou 2, and Sister simply has a love to hate relationship with Lou 2.

She's just gonna have to get over it though, because Lou 2 is part of the family...whether she likes it or not! As for Lou Lou and Papa, they are pleased with the work thus far in constructed the building, and they are excited to see their final product soon.

Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling!

Mizell Memorial Hospital to celebrate Hospital Week

Mizell Memorial Hospital will join hospitals across the nation in celebrating National Hospital Week this May 7-13, with the theme, "We Are Health Care".

Each year this special week gives the opportunity for hospitals and their communities to celebrate the hospitals, health systems, and the women and men who support the health and well-being of their communities through dedication and care from the heart. Mizell Memorial is an important part of the fabric of this community today and has been for over 70 years. Mizell plans to celebrate this week with activities each day.

It is important to have quality healthcare in every community. In many cases minutes, or even seconds matter. The COVID pandemic has highlighted the importance of rural healthcare. It is more important than ever to support Mizell Memorial Hospital.

The citizens of Opp and surrounding areas deserve high-quality healthcare. Mizell continues to make improvements to ensure that all patients that enter the doors of the hospital are receiving quality healthcare close to home. Mizell continuously makes upgrades to be able to better serve our community. Over the last couple of years, Mizell has been able to add services such as podiatry, outpatient infusion center, a Rural Health Clinic in Elba, 3D Mammography, and are in the process of beginning non-opioid pain management services.

Mizell was able to navigate the COVID pandemic without the use of any contracted agency staffing. This means had members of the community caring for their own families, friends, and neighbors. This also means the facility was able to make use of COVID funds to make more of the necessary upgrades to the physical plant in order to be better prepared to continue to care for not only COVID patients, but every patient.

As National Hospital Week is celebrated across the country, please take a moment to thank each member of the Mizell team for their hard work and dedication to this community.

Undergraduate Award.

The Honors Convocation was held on Friday, April 21, at the Dothan Campus. Dr. Don Jeffrey, Dothan Campus Vice Chancellor, gave the welcome address, and the event was preceded by a reception for the honorees and their guests.

Items of Remembrance to Share After a Loss

Honoring the deceased can come in many forms. During a wake or other commemorative service, guests may be presented with items of remembrance to honor the deceased. These items may take many different shapes or forms, but what they all have in common is they are reminders of the loved one who has passed.

Books of Remembrance. This is a book set in a common area, typically during a wake or vigil service. Guests who have come to pay their respects to the deceased and the grieving family may sign in and write messages, memories, or poems to commemorate the deceased.

Memorial Cards. Memorial cards are a small but lasting tribute to the person who has passed. They are credit card sized items that typically have a meaningful photo and words printed on them. These cards serve as a tangible memory of the loved one. They are a convenient source of familiarity and comfort for family or friends who are mourning their loss. They are typically laminated and are included in thank you notes the grieving family might send to those who could not attend the funeral, calling hours, wake, or vigil.

Prayer Cards. As part of Catholic tradition, prayer cards, or holy cards, are small cards with devotional pictures. They generally illustrate a religious scene or saint. There is a prayer printed on the back of the card. This is done so the cardholder can recite the prayer and better cope with the loss of their loved one. Giving out these cards to guests is a common practice and part of the culture of Roman Catholicism.

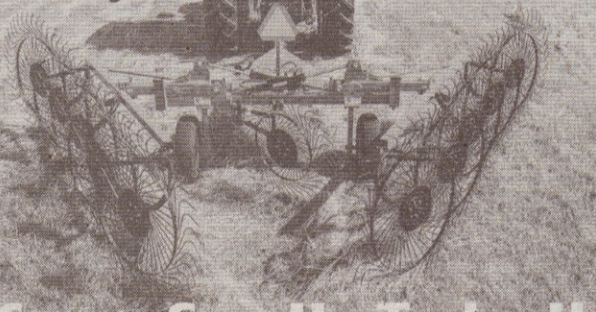

Personalized Tokens. Many other items of a more personal nature can be considered, like give aways or little knick-knacks. These may reference a hobby or skill your loved one expressed great interest in.

When preparing to celebrate and remember the life of a loved one, consider these tokens you may present to those who have come to the funeral or wake services. In doing so, you can offer support and comfort to all who are grieving and give guests a tangible way to remember and honor the person who has passed.

Dads, We Can Do Better

Hello, Dads.

I've heard it said that a teen spends less than an hour a week talking with his/her father and twenty-one hours a week watching TV. Add in time spent with friends, on the phone, and social media, it's a wonder that teens have time to even sleep. Bottom line, dads, such lack of interaction, relationship building, and lack of "coaching" time from you won't cut it. Is it any wonder that our teenage children are struggling like they are?

Dad, I hope you are an exception. But chances are, we all could do better. Distractions and taking on too many commitments make it extremely challenging at times to be the dad we want to be.

Dad, do you know how much time you actually spend with your children? Why not track it over the next four weeks?

Remember: Time spent with your children spells L-O-V-E. So get a calendar and schedule some weekly time with them, doing things together, talking, just being with them in their world.

You don't have to have an agenda. The goal is simply to be together, listen, and share yourself with your children. You know--heart-to-heart! This is being intentional with your kids. Otherwise, weeks and months will slip by and you will have missed wonderful opportunities to influence your sons and daughters for their good and God's glory. And that's your goal, right?

Dad, if you want to talk to someone about your journey as a dad or any struggles you're dealing with, give me a call. I've been where you are. Here's what I know for a fact: There's help and there's always hope. Remember: God's desire is to "...turn the hearts of the fathers to their children and the hearts of the children to their fathers..." (Malachi 4:6).

The Promise of Resurrection

As a child, I feared death. I dreaded funerals and absolutely protested viewing of bodies of the deceased. It was not until my grandmother died that my fear of death dissipated. I grieved her death, yet I was at peace with it. How could this be?

My grandmother was a devout Christian. She disciplined me, teaching me how to study the Bible, pray, fast, and serve others. When she came to the end of her earthly journey, there was no need to fear for her: through Christ she had eternal life. Her body that had suffered would be resurrected and changed by Christ's power. Her physical death was the end of her life on earth, but her life was not over. She has eternal life through Christ. Better grasping the promise of resurrection changed not only my view of death but also my view of life. This transformative promise prompts us to yield our lives in service to Christ. Have hope for His return and the resurrection! - L.H.P.

The Mulberry Missionary Baptist District Association Inc. will host a Praise and Worship service Sunday, May 7, at 2 p.m. The theme is "Restore Unto Me the Joy of Thy Salvation" Psalm 51:12. Prayer/Scripture: Rev. Marvin Luckett; Praise and Worship Sermon: Rev. Anthony C. Jelks, pastor, Lively Hope Baptist Church, South Pratt, Ala. Face masks and social distancing are encouraged.

SSGT LUCCHESI SPEAKS TO DAR CHAPTER...
SSGT Deanna Lucchesi was the featured speaker at the John Coffee NSDAR meeting during National Defense Month. SSGT Lucchesi was awarded a Purple Heart in 2022 for her actions while assigned to the 82nd Aviation Regiment at Al-Asad Airbase, Iraq, where her unit came under attack by the largest ballistic missile operation ever perpetuated against U.S. forces. Multiple Iranian Qiam-1 short range ballistic missiles struck the hangers, maintenance facilities, living quarters and other support facilities primarily used by Task Force Scarecrow personnel. A warning of an imminent threat had been received. Within minutes one missile hit near her location and a second one hit shortly thereafter. SSGT Lucchesi helped relocate other soldiers in bunkers out of harm's way, as fire was spreading from one of the ballistic missiles. As she took accountability and reported up the chain of command, at least two ballistic missiles impacted the ground 25 meters of her position, resulting in her concussion and injury. SSGT Lucchesi currently serves as a Training Developer at the Noncommissioned Officers Academy, Fort Novosel. Shown presenting a thank you gift to SSGT Lucchesi is Regent Jacque Hawkins of the John Coffee NSDAR Chapter.

10-YEAR CERTIFICATE...Elizabeth Vickers (right) was presented a certificate by Regent Jacque Hawkins, John Coffee Chapter NSDAR, from the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution expressing appreciation to Elizabeth Vickers for 10 Years of Dedicated Service, signed by Pamela Rouse Wright, President General of NSDAR.

Views From

The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Our newest grandson Cannon has a very anxious set of parents as they await the day he gets up on his knees and takes off around the house crawling. We have told them he will take off one day when he has somewhere he wants to go, and when he does they will wish he would slow down. I don't really remember our girls first steps back many years ago. However, I do know they have been going full speed ever since.

For what it is worth....

 The Elba Lady Tigers closed out the regular season with a win last week and will head off to the playoffs with the team's most wins in many years. The Elba girls have only two seniors on the team, which should help them be successful again next season. However, the players and coaches aren't looking ahead and have their sights set on many more wins in post-season play. Nothing ever comes easy for the team in 'black and gold,' but hopefully they have saved their best for last and will give their fans plenty to cheer about in the weeks to come.

 The Brantley Bulldogs opened the high school baseball season with three straight losses and dropped four of their first five games, but just kept on working and caught fire late in the season and have continued to sizzle in the first two rounds of the playoffs with sweeps over Calhoun and Millry to advance to the third round. A lot of people wondered what was wrong with the Bulldogs early in the season. However, they are now on a roll and are a team that no one else in 1A wants to face.

 The Kinston Bulldogs wrapped up a playoff berth by mid-season and looked like a 1A power, but the Bulldogs lost their last five regular season games and looked like anything but a contender back two weeks ago. While the 'Dogs did see their season end last weekend with a second round loss to Sweet Water, they shocked the state with a first round sweep on the road and posted a win in the series last weekend to complete a solid season. Kinston may not have made it as far as they had hoped, but the Bulldogs once again proved they were competitive in all sports in the 1A ranks, and had a solid stellar season.

 In closing.... Hundreds of lives were changed forever last week at the NFL Draft as the pro football league filled the pockets of former college players. Rookie contracts are locked in based on when a player is selected, with all rookie contracts being four-year deals. Bryce Young, the top pick in the draft, pulled in a $42.2 million contract with a signing bonus of $26.9 million, while former Crimson Tide teammates Will Anderson will get a cool $38.2 million as the third selection and Jahmyr Gibbs will get a $19.2 million pact as the twelfth pick. College football has become a business with the inception of the NIL contracts, but it is still easy to see why all the players set their sights on the NFL, and you can bet keep a watchful eye on their bank accounts. The sport has changed forever, even at the high school level.

Outscore Goshen 12-11

Elba Lady Tigers win a wild one

Statistics from
GAMECHANGER

The Elba Lady Tigers closed the regular season last week with an exciting 12-11 win over Goshen.

Goshen jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead in the first inning and upped its lead to 3-0 in the top of the second, but the Lady Tigers bats came to life in the bottom of the inning and sparked by two-out singles by A'lyric Whitfield and Mary Brooklyn O'Neal played two runs to pull within 3-2.

Elba trailed 4-2 heading into the bottom of the fourth. However, the Lady Tigers erupted for four runs in the inning and grabbed their first lead at 6-4. Walks to A'lyric Whitfield and Alayvia Stinson ignited the rally, while Mary Brooklyn O'Neal, Taylor Day, Destinee Tidwell and Danielle Tidwell all came through with key hits as the Lady Tigers went on top.

The Lady Tigers continued their rally at the plate in the fifth inning and used a two-run double by Alayvia Stinson to add four more runs to extend their lead to 10-4, only to see Goshen take advantage of Elba errors to score three sixth inning runs and close to within 10-7.

Back-to-back hits by Elba's Emily Richardson and Ana Caldwell helped the Lady Tigers up their lead to 11-7 in the bottom of the sixth, but Goshen plated four runs in the top of the seventh and pulled even at 11-1.

Elba's Alayvia Stinson reached on a leadoff single in the bottom of the seventh, moved to second on a sacrifice bunt by Taylor Day and went to third on a wild pitch to put the winning run only sixty-feet from the plate, and the Lady Tigers took advantage of the late threat and pulled out the win when Destinee Tidwell ripped an rbi single to put Elba on top to stay at 12-11.

Padgett brothers take third place in bass tournament fundraiser

The Straughn School Fishing Team sponsored a Bass Tournament Fund-raiser Saturday, April 22, on Gantt Lake. It was open to anyone interested (adults and youth).

Thirty-three boats registered for the event.

Drake Padgett, age 12, who has been following his older brother, Avery Padgett, for four years as he has traveled the state of Alabama fishing with the Zion Chapel Bass Team, asked Avery if he would be available and interested in fishing this tournament and allow him to fish with him. After checking his tournament schedule, Avery agreed to fish the tournament.

On the heels of Avery's commitment, their dad immediately paid their registration fee, and Drake's anxiety level began to heighten; he had never had such an experience. Living on Point

A, Drake has been fishing in the area quite often but never in a tournament. Like he had seen his brother do in the past four years, Drake made a few shopping trips to add to his tackle collection and spent several hours organizing his tackle bag. Launch time came at 6 a.m. (before daylight) Saturday, April 22, and Avery's boat was in the water with him and Drake on board. Check-in time was 2 p.m.

Avery and Drake took home the third-place win with 11.21 pounds. They yielded first and second place to two much older and more experienced anglers.

As stated earlier, Drake is 12 and this was his first tournament; it appears that after this experience Drake has the fever and is a possible candidate for the Straughn Bass Team in the future.
